Note(s):
- These procedures may require pre-authorization. Aetna's radiology management vendors may have more current information that will supersede the information contained within this List.
- Effective January 1, 2012, Aetna requires all providers administering high-tech radiology services to be accredited by the American College of Radiology and/or the Intersocietal Accreditation Commission. Any provider performing these services who has not been accredited at the time of service will not be eligible for payment. Therefore, Aetna’s radiology management vendors will offer alternative providers who have been determined to be accredited in accordance with these standards.
