Note(s):
- These procedures may require preauthorization. Aetna's radiology management vendors may have more current information that will replace the information contained within this List.
- Effective January 1, 2012, Aetna requires all providers administering high-tech radiology services to be accredited by the American College of Radiology and/or the Intersocietal Accreditation Commission. Any provider who performs these services but is not accredited at the time of service may not be eligible for payment. Aetna’s radiology management vendors will offer alternative accredited providers in accordance with these standards.
